SLAM

A dynamic comic book illustration depicting a powerful impact. A character, rendered in a blue and yellow color scheme, is shown in mid-air, having just collided with a large, curved, red surface. The impact is emphasized by a massive, dark, starburst-like explosion of energy or debris radiating from the point of contact. The word "SLAM" is written in large, bold, white capital letters with a black outline, positioned at the bottom of the frame, partially overlapping the red surface and the explosion. The overall style is reminiscent of classic comic book art, with strong contrasts and dramatic lighting.
